at noon Wednesday morning. Pictures were shown. Boys' Secretary Davis returned the movie machine.

In one of the films, sewing and reaping were pictured, and in a brief talk Secretary Hill suggested to the employees that as the farmers' business was largely sewing and reaping, so we in our lives are all sowing and reaping. It makes all the difference in the world what kind of seed we sow, and we must remember that we sow in larger quantities than we sow; i.e., we sow to the wind, we reap the whirlwind. We should be sure that each day we sow the right kind of seed that will bring forth the right kind of a harvest. "Sow a thought, you reap an act; sow an act, you reap a habit; sow a habit, you reap a character; sow a character, you reap a destiny," therefore, be careful of your sowing.

How Mrs. Luther Acted
The appellants rested their case at the conclusion of Mrs. Learson's testimony and the appellants opened their case with the reading of a deposition of Mrs. James D. Pettigrew of New London, in which she described the conduct of Mrs. Luther toward her mother on a trip to and from Saratoga Springs many years ago, during which Mrs. Luther was continually mad at her mother, wouldn't speak to her and wouldn't stay at the same hotel with her.

Trinity of the case will probably occupy all of today (Thursday).

STATE HUMAN SOCIETY
WORK CONSTANTLY GOING
The extensive work accomplished by the Connecticut Humane society, during the past year, was reviewed to a competent audience, by General Manager, L.
Clay Preston. To give some idea of the societies activities and their growth in the past year, the treasurer's report showed that last year the society's expenditures were $1,000,000, and the income was $1,000,000. The society's work is constantly going on, and the society is constantly growing.

Under cross-examination Attorney Tanner said that there were two or three names in the 1917 will which were left out of the 1920 will and two or three names were put in the 1920 will which were not in the 1917 will. He said that Mrs. Luther had come to his office with her when she made out the 1920 will and that he could not remember whether she destroyed the 1917 will or not. So far as he knew she took it with her.

He said that he never saw the 1917 document since then and he next saw the 1920 will at the probate office in June, 1921, when it was admitted to probate. The witness said that he did not know where Mrs. Luther kept the 1917 will and he did not know where she kept the 1920 will.

Search for the Will Attorney Tanner admitted that some time after Mrs. Luther's death he went to the Luther house in Broad street where a search was made for another will. Tanner fixed the time of visiting the house at about the 10th of the week between continued hearings of the probate court. He said that he accompanied Attorney Nathan Belcher, who was with him when the search was made, to the house for a will later than the 1920 will. The witness said that he was personal counsel for the executor, denied looking for a tin box or any other kind of receptacle containing a will, and recalled no conversation with Mrs.
Luther about a will.
